

Title:	A process for preparation of composition useful for the insect free storage of cereals.
Abstract :	The present invention relates to a process for preparation of composition useful for the insect free storage of cereals. It can be used to protect stored cereals from insect infestation for a minimum period of four months without the use of poisonous insecticides, but a formulation made up of safe food grade materials, so that therein absolutely no risk of poisoning upon consuming the treated grain.