

Title:	An improved process of obtaining high contents of bound-phenolic acid rich dietary fibre
Abstract:	The present invention relates to an improved process of obtaining bound phenolic acid rich dietary fibre from cereal malts by step-wise increase of about 7-14°C in temperature and thereby using in situ amylases only.